ABOUT CONFERENCE (IASSET)

IASSET 2025 is a premier international conference bringing together leading researchers, scientists, engineers, and practitioners to explore the latest innovations in applied science and emerging technologies. The conference will serve as a dynamic platform for sharing cutting-edge research, fostering collaboration, and discussing the transformative impact of emerging technologies on industries and society.

IASSET 2025 will feature keynote speeches from thought leaders, technical sessions showcasing breakthrough research, panel discussions addressing critical challenges, and networking opportunities to build meaningful professional relationships. The event aims to inspire advancements that will shape the future of science and technology.

IASSET 2025 invites researchers, academicians, and industry professionals to submit original research papers, case studies, and review articles for presentation at the conference. Submissions should address theoretical and practical aspects of applied science and emerging technologies.
